DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/17/04 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 5,8,9,14 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ohnuki et al.

Ohnuki et al discloses an optical record wherein the light is imparted through the appropriate layer as required/recited by the independent claim. The particular structure recited in the independent claims as well as dependent claims 5, 8 and 9 are shown, see fig. 10 for instance.

5. Claims 1, 5,8,9 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ueno et al.

Art Unit: 2653

Ueno et al discloses a recording medium, see fig. 3 wherein two protective layers "2" are disclosed. See the description of the particular materials for such layers at col. 3 lines 49 plus. Furthermore, as recited by the claim, the light impinges upon the transparent protective layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim 1 as stated above in paragraphs 4 and 5 and further in view of Kikuchi et al.

The ability of having antireflection layers for their inherent use in this environment is known as taught by the Kikuchi et al reference.

Art Unit: 2653

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the system of the documents as relied upon as stated above with the teaching from Kikuchi et al, motivation is to save valuable resources by using existing antireflection layer abilities in this environment for their inherent uses.

7. Claim 59 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Ueno et al further considered with the acknowledged prior art.

Ueno et al is relied upon for the reasons stated above in paragraph 5. Claim 59 also calls for a reflective layer upon the substrate. Such a composition is taught by the acknowledged prior art – fig. 3. Again, applicants' cooperation in identifying such is respectfully requested in order to complete the search report.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system of Ueno et al with the acknowledged prior art, motivation is to perform the appropriate reflective ability in this environment.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nakaoki et al – which teaches the overall recording medium structure – lacking the transparent protective layer (s) but can be relied upon in combination with either Ueno et al or Ide et al (see col. 2, lines 56-59) in meeting the above claims.
